To those in St. Louis, New Orleans and the South, in quest of summer resorts, this little book is addressed. The writer offers a brief summary of the attractions of a few watering places. The information is not second-hand and inexact, but has been obtained at some trouble and expense, and is reliable. Starting from St. Louis, the future great city of the world, you take the Chicago Alton Road, passing through the finest agricultural region of Illinois, which presents a panorama of loveliness rarely equaled in the way of handsome cities and towns, vast prairies covered with immense fields of yellow grain and waving corn. First comes Alton, the city of hills, located on the east bank of the Mississippi; five miles further on, settled among the trees, stands grand old Monticello, cherished in the memory of hundreds of useful women, educated there; Carlinville, with its million dollar Court House; Springfield, the capital of the Prairie State; then Bloomington, which is the site of the Company's extensive work shops, and the State Normal University. Within 37 miles of Chicago comes Joliet, with its State Prison and big rolling mills. The Chicago Alton is, without doubt, the best managed and equipped road in the West. The managers believe in spending some of the money received for freight and fares, to make their road safe and comfortable for their patrons. Its operation is conducted...
