

In the Hoofprints of Marco Polo - A Ride from Srinagar to Peking in 1905 (Paperback)

By Major Clarence Dalrymple Bruce

Long Riders Guild Press, United States, 2004. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 212 x 140 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . There is an old saying among the equestrian journeyers of Central Asia that a unique occasion will produce a special man. When such a rare occasion arose in 1905 for a courageous horseman to ride from Kashmir to Peking, Major Clarence Bruce stepped into the saddle and cantered into Long Rider history. As the 20th century dawned this soldier turned author found himself on the wrong side of the Himalayas. Bruce had previously led a regiment of Chinese soldiers. Yet fate now placed him in picturesque Srinagar, Kashmir, thousands of miles away from faraway Peking where he wished to be. So Bruce did what any Long Rider would do the impossible. He began by making his way to the mountain kingdom of Ladakh. There he enlisted a crew of wild looking ruffians and 28 rugged ponies, then set off on an eight-month journey that taxed men and horses to their limits. Mounted on his trusty 13 hand high Kashmiri pony, Bruce started by leading his caravan over 18,000 foot high Himalayan passes, before descending onto...
