THEORETICAL AND PRACTICAL MEDICINE, Art. I. A Letter to the Right Honourable Sir Joseph Banks, Bart. P. R. S. on the Causes and Removal of the prevailing Discontents, Imperfections, and Abuses, in Medicine; from Thomas Beddoes, M. D. 8vo. pp. 147. Phillips. . ABOUT three years ago, several physicians formed themselves into an association, under the patronage of the President of the Royal Society, for the purpose of inquiring into the numerous abuses that prevail in the practice of medicine, of considering what remedies were best calculated to remove them, and of procuring the assistance of the legislature, if necessary, for enforcing any scheme which they might judge it expedient to propose. Convinced of the existence of the evils in question, and of the expediency of a reform in all the branches of the art, we beheld, with...
