Not illustrated. 1916 Excerpt: .at least three hours per week, or an equivalent of 84 one-hour periods per year for two years, shall be assigned for instruction in the military department, not less than two-thirds of the total time to be devoted to practical instruction and field training and the remainder to theoretical instruction. 28. The instruction will vary according to the nature of the institution and the facilities afforded, but at all institutions will include the following: Infantry drill regulations.--School of the Soldier, School of the Squad, School of the Company, Intrenchments, paragraphs 584 to 595. Field-service regulations.--The Service of Information. The Service of Security. Small-arms firing regulations.--Instruction preliminary to gallery and range practice. Gallery practice. Range practice, when a range can be procured. The instruction will also include company administration, camp sanitation, and military-map reading. Whenever practicable an annual practice march and encampment will be included. The additional ground to be covered will be determined by the instructor, having in view the age of the students, the strength of the organization, and other conditions. Throughout the course of instruction the reasons for the successive steps in the military training will in all cases be carefully shown to the student before the initiation of that particular instruction. The theoretical course of study will be based strictly upon the main object of the military instruction and will consist largely of talks or lectures, illustrated wherever and whenever practicable by lantern slides and by objects and covering the essential principles...
