Wren, for Relief: To the Honorable: The Senators and Representative, in Congress Assembled The other two sons serving three years and more. That, before enlisting as above stated, she sold off her household furniture and what property she had - investing most of her capital in fine hospital stores, which were taken with the regiment to the Army of the Potomac at Camp California, and there gratuitously distributed to the 1st Brigade of Sumner s old division and likewise to the Second or Irish Brigade, thus inaugurating a private Sanitary Commission. She remained with the army during their movements, having charge of Clermont Hospital in the winter of 1861 and 1862, until a general order was issued forbidding Matrons to accompany the troops in the field; she then took charge of Judiciary Square Hospital, in Washington, reforming many of the abuses of that institution. Failing health obliged a relinquishment of that position. With the residue of her means, she rented the houses No. 441 and 444 K Street, Washington, D. C, and devoted her time to the relief and cure of the soldiers. In the memorable Antietam and Gettysburg campaigns, when the streets were filled with ill and dying men, she not only kept open house herself, but, by her example and adjuration, induced many of her neighbors, Secessionists as well as Unionists, to open their doors to the wounded and weary. The certificates accompanying (most of which have been procured this year - 1869), show that she was of great service to the cause, expended all she had, receiving nothing in liquidation, either from the soldiers or government, excepting...
